2025 RELEASE UNDER E.O. 14176

OGC 82-01997
26 February 1982

MEMORANDUM FOR: See Distribution

FROM:

Chief, Legislation Division, OGC

STAT

SUBJECT: Identities Legislation

1. Following the unexpected collapse of the post-cloture filibuster on the Fiscal Year 1982 Department of Justice Authorization Bill, the Senate took up S. 391, the Intelligence Identities Protection Act, at 1600 on Thursday, 25 February. The Congressional Record transcript of the approximately two hours of debate on the measure which followed is attached for your information.

2. The Senate is in recess today, Friday, 26 February. Under a complex unanimous consent agreement, the Senate has decided that the Identities Bill will be the only substantive business in order on Monday, 1 March.

2. The Senate is scheduled to convene at 1100 on Monday, and debate on the Identities Bill should commence shortly thereafter. The Senate has also agreed that any votes ordered on the Bill or amendments thereto (i.e., on the Chafee-Jackson amendment) will not occur before 1400 Tuesday, 2 March. It now appears that Senate action on the Bill can be completed on Tuesday, but it should be noted that there is no time agreement limiting debate on S. 391, and the Senate is committed to proceed to the matter of Senator Harrison A. Williams at 1230 on Wednesday, 3 March. Thus, it would still be possible for opponents of the Bill to attempt to delay final passage.
